Delegation Meeting On Tuesday, Jan. 4

FARMERS WILL MEET TO DISCUSS WANTED LEG-ISLATION

ALL ARE INVITED

Torren's Land System Measure
Now on Senate Calendar and Will Be Acted Upon.

Tuesday, January 4, has been set aside for the delegation meeting by Senator J. L. Sherard, this date being more satisfactory to all parties concerned. This meeting will be of a public character, and all are invited to attend. The direct reason for its being called is to hear discussion by members of the Farmers union of a rural credits bill. This question has been frequently brought up before their meetings and they are anxious to discuss it with the delegation.

In this connection it might be said that the Torren's land system measure passed the lower body of the legislature at its last regular meeting, and was carried over in the senate near the close of the session. It was one of the last measures on the calendar, and the senate did not have time to act upon it. However, it still remains on the calendar, and Senator Sherard stated yesterday that it would doubtless be passed at the next session.

The exact time of the meeting on January 4 will be announced later. It would have been held on Monday, the day before, but this being a holiday, it was thought best to wait until Tuesday. The farmers of the county are asked to remember the date of this meeting.

School Credit for Domestic Work.
The public school of Poughkeepsie, New York, for two years have been giving school credit for home work, says Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper, published in Springfield, Ohio. This plan has proved so successful in educational value and in popularity with parents that it is coming into use in other places, one of which is a country school near Springfield, Ohio.

Every Friday afternoon each child takes home a home-duty record slip. Beginning with Monday, all the time spent by a pupil in home duties is entered in the proper space. At the end of the week the card is signed by the parent or guardian and returned to the teacher.

"These home-duty credits count as much in the promotion of a pupil as any regular subject in the school. Among the duties for which school credit is given are dish-washing, housecleaning, preparing meals, work in the garden, shoveling snow, washing, ironing, and mopping, care of animals, sewing, newspaper route, helping in store, caring for the stock, and many other duties. Practicing music lessons, one of the duties sometimes shirked, is on the list. Care of automobiles is there too. Any other duties which the parents important can be added to the list, and the child receives credit."

"This branch of education is not simply an extra to school work. It is so much a part of the school work that the pupils are not promoted at the end of the year if they fail in their home duties."

GENEROSTEE TRIBE HAD GOOD MEETING

BANQUET WAS GIVEN LAST
EVENING AND 300
PRESENT

EX-GOV. BLEASE

Was Among the Speakers of the Evening—Music Furnished by Splendid Band.

A delightful banquet was given last evening by Generostee Tribe No. 30, Order of Red Men at the Orr mills about 300 people being present, among them being ex-Governor Colo. L. Blease. The evening was a grand success, everything being carried out well.

Mr. A. H. Dagnall, who is especially suited to the task, acted as toastmaster. He introduced the speakers in bright and witty talks, the following responding: Mr. J. D. Hammett, Dr. John E. White, Dr. W. H. Fraser, Mr. G. Cullen Sullivan, Rev. J. W. Speake, H. H. Watkins and ex-Governor Blease. All of the speeches were of a high order and the speakers complimented the Order of Red Men and the standards which it stands for.

Between each speech delightful music was furnished by a band which added greatly to the occasion. At the close of the affair the patriotism of the order was expressed by the singing of "America."

Your Unknown Country.

"What do you know about Coahoma county?" asks the Clarksdale, Miss., Feglar. "When you take a stranger into your car, what do you show him, what do you tell him?"

"Did you know?"
"That the Mississippi river once ran past Clarksdale?"

"That Clarksdale is built inside an ancient fort?"
"That a gang of river pirates once ruled Coahoma county and levied tribute from the settlers, and that you have passed the headquarters of these pirates a hundred times?"

"That General Forrest once owned a plantation in Coahoma county?"
"That a fleet of federal gunboats once went down Yazoo Pass?"

"That DeSoto was buried somewhere near Star Landing?"
There are several more of these questions, and the conclusion is "Coahoma county is a very interesting place. Why don't you learn something about it?"

How about our own town, and our own county? What do you know about them? You probably learned as a child the height of the Washington monument, and you doubtless sigh for the experience, if you haven't had it, of counting for yourself the steps in Bunker Hill monument and the stories in the Woolworth building, of gazing spellbound at the fighting elephants in the Museum in Chicago. It's all very well to travel into far lands and there learn about them. But most of one's life has to be spent at home. Why not explore one's own town and county a little and find out what an interesting place home is?—Florida Metropolis.

Good Money for the Crops.

"When figures get about so big," ruminates The Lenoir Topic, "they cease to be interesting." We imagine that the figures given out by the government yesterday showing that the value of the principal crops of the United States this year was $5,568,735,200 can properly be classified as "so big," but doubtless the public will find them interesting whether or not they are comprehensible. One way to obtain an approximate idea of what they mean is by using the per capita basis. Presuming the total population to be in the neighborhood of a hundred million, we have a valuation of 55¢ for every man, woman and child in the American population. By comparison with the total for last year, we find an increase of nearly $800,000,000, a wholly comfortable increase. So far as the farmers of the country are concerned there was no mockery in the Thanksgiving proclamation, and since the prosperity of the farmer is the brightest of beacons to all other workers, it is clear that the United States has had a good year. —Charlotte Observer.

A Chicago magistrate announces that he is going to try to make lady husbands work. Nothing lady about a magistrate who will undertake such a job. —Albany Argus.

The exhibits in the toy windows seem to indicate that little lead soldiers are as popular as ever—and there are no signs of substituting Keweenaw for Noah's arks. —Evening Wisconsin.

CITROLAX CITROLAX CITROLAX

Best thing for constipation, sour stomach, lax liver and sluggish bowels. Stops a sick headache almost at once. Gives a most thorough and satisfactory flushing—no pain, no nausea. Keeps your system cleansed, sweet and wholesome. —R. H. Welch, Salt Lake City, Utah, writes: "I use Citrolax the best Laxative I ever used. Does not create no unpleasant after effects." —Sold Everywhere.

New Chairman Public Service Board.

Oscar S. Straus.

Oscar S. Straus, ex-ambassador to Turkey and Progressive candidate for governor of New York in 1912, has just been appointed chairman of the public service board, to take the place of Edward B. McCall. Politicians regard the appointment as a clever move on the part of Governor Whitman, and think it will go far toward conciliating the Bull Moose party in the state.

Strong and Well as Ever.
Fred Smith, 325 Main St., Green Bay, Wis., says: "I suffered a long time with a very weak back. Foley-Kidney Pills completely relieved me of all soreness and pain and I now am strong and well as ever." Winter aggravates symptoms of kidney trouble; cold weather makes aching joints, sore muscles, and irregular bladder action more unbearable. Foley-Kidney Pills help the kidneys eliminate pain-causing poisons.

Why You Should Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Because it has an established reputation for curing colds and coughs. Because it is a safe remedy for those who have used it for many years, as occasion required, and are best acquainted with its good qualities. Because it loosens and relieves a cold and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Because it does not contain opium or any other narcotic. Because it is within the reach of all. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.
